CONTRIBUTION AWARD

AUGUST 2008

Brazil, 2008.

Erwan Fouéré has continuously dedicated his efforts and passion to provide better opportunities for the people of different communities he has worked with. Added to this dedication is his strong belief in the important role of youth that has made Mr. Fouéré a critical supporter of AIESEC and its work in the Republic of Macedonia.

The extremely busy agenda of being an ambassador and head of delegation has not prevented Mr. Fouéré from also giving his time to being a coach of the leadership teams of AIESEC in the country and until recently of the congress committee team of the International President's Meeting, 2008, Republic of Macedonia. His role as a member of the Board of Patrons for the conference has proven crucial for the successful delivery of different aspects of the conference. Mr. Fouéré facilitated the cooperation between AIESEC and key government ministries of the country in order to ease the visa process for the guests of the Erwan Fouéré is one of the most enthusiastic individuals in the Republic of Macedonia. His outstanding support for this country is immense, but his support to AIESEC is remarkable, we see in him a mentor, a coach, a role model, a leader, but most important we see a friend."

- Yoel Zubizarreta, President, AIESEC in the Republic of Macedonia event. His endorsements and the financial support of the institution he represents, were of vital help for the congress committee. Currently Mr. Fouéré is taking an active role in supporting AIESEC in the Republic of Macedonia to restructure its governance and accountability bodies, providing advice and invaluable personal contacts.

As early as his student years, Erwan Fouéré showed leadership and pro-activeness. In 1965 he founded the European Student Association and two years later was chosen to be Vice President of the Young European Federalists.

Moving on to his remarkable diplomatic career, he had a series of key appointments and was Deputy Head of the Delegation of the European Commission for Latin America and first Head of the Delegations to Mexico and Cuba,

South Africa and Slovenia. He has written articles in various European, U.S., Latin American and South African publications relating to international relations, international environmental issues and to the European integration process. Mr. Fouéré was awarded the Order of Good Hope, Class II by President Mandela.
